Beven Legal will work as part of your team to deliver success.

The Beven Legal approach

Beven Legal is a law firm established on the new network model, with flexibility, technology and quality business process outsourcing at heart.

We minimise our fixed costs and ensure your direct access to partner-level expertise by combining our own resources with a network approach.

We are able comprehensively to deal with all issues by linking up with like-minded individuals and firms when needed (and only when needed).

This approach delivers lower overheads for us, while still giving access to the best experience for you - as well as highly-competitive and flexible billing.

Beven Legal works direct for clients or alongside their other advisers (including law firms) to provide a seamless, co-ordinated approach. In particular we can help project manage external lawyers as part of your team to ensure legal budgets are met.
